

THE OUTSIDERS

Newspaper Project

Students create the front page of a newspaper based on the events in the classic novel. Includes everything you need to start today.

Can easily be extended into a group project.

Newspaper Assignment Teacher Hints

- I find it is sometimes helpful to brainstorm some of the major events of the novel order to help some students get started.
- This is a great opportunity to review the themes, characters and smaller events of the novel.
- I find I get better results from the students if they "report" on one event—for example an article on the church fire is going to be more captivating than an article that tries to summarize the entire novel.
- Encourage the students to think like a reporter. What slant or bias would they bring to their reporting? What bias do the townspeople have about the Greasers? What are the stereotypes about the kids in the gang?
- Photocopy the templates on to 11x17" paper for longer work.... Or use digital templates included in programs like MS Publisher.

Extension Ideas

- Have students complete additional pages of the newspaper. They could interview other people to see what they think of the events? Write about the novel from a fashion perspective, present some aspects as if they were writing a sports article...
- Have students work in partners or a small group to create an entire newspaper—they could decide what articles they would each write and then work together to compile one newspaper with multiple pages.
- Write a newspaper article from the perspective of a Soc. How would it differ from a newspaper written by someone who was friendly with the Greasers?

What Do I Need To Do?

You are a newspaper reporter who has been following the recent events between the Socs and the Greasers. You've decided to do a newspaper feature and will dedicate the entire front page of the paper to the conflict.

Your newspaper MUST have the following:

- A title banner with the creative name of your paper, the date, the price etc.
- A main article that covers one event and includes details that relate directly to the novel.
- An advertisement with prices and items appropriate to the time period. (Ex. There were no mp3 players back then...)
- At least one small article to fill in the empty space.
- A picture with a caption. (Can be hand-drawn or from the internet)
- If you're really keen, add an inside page for additional articles and ideas!
- Look at a modern day newspaper for formatting ideas

Local teens involved in murder. Ponyboy Curtis claims it was self-defense.

Helpful Hints

- Remember, newspapers are written in 3rd Person - don't use "I" or "me" except when directly quoting someone
- Newspapers answer the questions—who, what, where, when and why??
- Remember, your task is to report on the details, however you can add extra details not covered in the book to enhance your work.
